Our neighbors, family, and friends around the world are living with pain, fear, & stress over money issues. We once were too, however, our family was able to transform our situation & turn our worst days into our best days. Our story has gained world-wide media attention and it is one that we love to share. It has given countless of people just like YOU hope & inspiration. Is this book ONLY for people that are already good at keeping track of personal finances NO! Living Beyond Rich is for the everyday person next door who thinks winning the lottery is the only way they can become rich. It's for the person who: * Is just plain worn out when it comes to dealing with their finances. * Struggles with separating their self worth from their negative net worth and/or; * Doesn't think they can do a budget. I am an ordinary person who can show you how to live an extraordinary life when it comes to gaining control over your personal finances. I am not a financial advisor, financial planner, or certified public accountant. Despite this, my family has managed to pay off over $150,000 worth of consumer debt & an additional $30,000 in medically related expenses in just three years! Without any get-rich-quick schemes involved, how did we accomplish this? Living Beyond Rich will show you how from the vantage point of an ordinary American family. Similar to what families face today, our struggles were frequent throughout our journey. Some of our detours to the road to freedom included: * Experiencing an emotional job loss in a downturned economy. * Having an unexpected addition to our family. Fighting our way through quite a few medical issues. Question: Who doesn't dream of becoming rich, especially in our fast moving society today where quick results are expected? For many years, we too wanted to become RICH. We thought our financial woes would vanish when/if some windfall would come our way. Our dreams for becoming rich disappeared overnight when we received the news that one of our children developed a chronic lifetime medical condition. Rather than wanting to become rich, we just wanted to survive. In needing to face our financial situation due to the large amount of medical bills coming our way, we would become gripped with terror to discover what our financial situation really looked like. We were stunned to find ourselves DROWNING in over $150,000 of consumer debt (this did not include our first mortgage). We asked ourselves: * Why was this happening to us and how had we gotten to this low point? * Were we the only ones with financial troubles? * How on earth were we ever going to get back on our feet again? Have You Ever Asked Yourself Similar Questions? Living Beyond Rich will change people's lives. It is our family's playbook of how we transformed our lives from living a life crammed with embarrassment, fear, shame, and isolation to a living a life overflowing with abundant joy, hope, freedom, peace, & empowerment.
