Drifting Back Trevor Scott

Freelance journalist Sig Conrad is shot in the head while elk hunting in the Oregon mountains. He survives but now his memory only lasts one day. A second man, Sig's old high school friend, is killed while swimming in Minnesota, the incident made to look like an accident. When Sig travels from Oregon to Minnesota for his class reunion, he finally starts to remember fleeting moments from his painful past. After another friend dies mysteriously, Sig's memory drifts back more vividly. Through the help of a former classmate and girlfriend, Sig starts to uncover a grand conspiracy of murder and political corruption. Clues lead to a fourth man who is running for the Oregon governorship—a man whom Sig had been writing about before he was shot. Will Sig recall everything before the killer finishes the job?

As a student exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's spirit or real their pastime. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring and can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Drifting Back can make you sense more interested to read.
